

CARRIES DEMAND FOR SURRENDERBritish Vice Consul Acts for General Villa.

DURING BATTLE OF TORREON

Report to the State Department at Washington Indicates That Rebel Commander Practically Coerced British Official to Carry Message to Federal General Velasco.El Paso, Tex., April 10.—H. S. Cunard-Cummins, acting British vice consul at Gomez Palacio, was used by General Villa to carry a demand to General Velasco March 27 in the course of the battle of Torreon that the latter surrender.According to the newspaper correspondents who reached here from the front Mr. Cunard-Cummins performed the mission under protest and was subjected to rifle fire on his return toward the rebel lines.George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department at the battle, in the report of the incident that he has made to Washington, however, does not indicate that Mr. Cunard-Cummins was coerced into becoming General Villa's messenger, but says that he did so with some reluctance, after first refusing.The report of Mr. Carothers to the state department follows:
"At 4 p. m. (March 27) General Villa sent a messenger to see Cummins, requesting him to go to headquarters.
H. W. Potter and I accompanied him.
When we arrived, after introducing Cummins to Villa, Villa said to him that he knew that Cummins was an enemy to the Constitutional cause; that he had information that Cummins was accustomed to banqueting with the federalists; that he knew he was a friend of General Velasco's; that, in view of this friendship with Velasco, he wanted Cummins to take a communication to Velasco in which he demanded the surrender of the city to avoid further bloodshed.Refuses to Deliver Message.
"Villa said his message was couched in terms usual in warfare in such cases. Cummins refused to take the message, arguing that he was neutral and should not mix in political affairs of the country."At this Villa became very angry and said we foreigners were demanding that he protect foreigners and be humanitarian in his acts and that at the very first opportunity given us to do some good we refused. He commenced to talk about probably having to fight all of us when I interposed and advised Cummins to go."Cummins agreed to go and left about 5 o'clock and was to return about noon next day. The interview with Villa had a most serious aspect for a few moments, but as it turned out, Villa and he shook hands and parted in the best of spirits."Mr. Carothers amplified his report to the state department as follows:
"Just before leaving Villa's headquarters Villa called Cummins 'amigo.' Cummins turned to Villa and said:
'You call me friend?' 'Yes, I call you friend,' responded Villa. Villa's last word to us was that he left all arrangements about getting away to us.""Cummins did not make any complaint to me of coercion, then or later.
On his return on the 30th he was cordially received by Villa, who embraced him and thanked him for what he had done."

RESOLUTION OUT OF ORDER

Move to Recommend the Nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for President in 1916 Meets With Failure—Platform Condemns National Democratic Administration.Augusta, Me., April 10.—A move to have the Republican state convention recommend the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt as a candidate for president in 1916 met with failure. A resolution to that end, adopted by the Republican caucus of the town of Yarmouth, was offered as an amendment to the platform, but was declared out of order.The platform condemns the national Democratic administration for what it declared to be "its hurried surrender to Great Britain in the matter of the Panama canal;" its violation of platform pledges and "its vague vacillating policy in dealing with conditions in Mexico." National prohibition is favored.The Underwood tariff law is characterized as "unjustly sectional and a menace to our industries."

STATE CAN TAX DIVIDENDS

Wisconsin Supreme Court Rules on Income Tax.Madison, Wis., April 10.—Dividends received from mining stock are taxable under the income tax law, according to a decision of the supreme court. The case was that of Van Dyke against the city of Milwaukee.
It was argued by the attorneys for the owners of the stock sought to be taxed, that ore taken from a mine and sold, the proceeds paid in the form of dividends could not be taxed as income, because it was capital and not income. Such dividends it was argued reduced the actual capital or property value of the mine and were not income or unimpaired capital.
The court, speaking through Justice Vinje, rejected this contention.

constitutional.

turned.Krafchenko was the least moved of those in the courtroom when the verdict was received and sentence pronounced. He ventured a smile, the only change in his usually stolid expression. Many women wept.The bank at Plum Coulee was en-

FEW VETERANS IN CONGRESS

Three Men Who Fought in Union Army Are Members of House—Five Confederate Soldiers Are Serving—All Are Democrats—Senators Feeling Nation's Pulse on Toll Question.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, April 10.—[Special.]— President Wilson's powerful personality and dominating force are a subject of conversation wherever people meet and discuss the conditions in Washington. Sometimes reference is made to his training as a professor in college, where he acquired the methods which he now invokes—that is, making up his mind and compelling those under his direction to do his bidding.Something of this was brought out in the debates upon the Panama canal tolls, but it is discussed privately to a greater extent than on the floor of the senate or house. There is one feature about the power which the president wields and the success that he has achieved which seems to carry a great deal of weight, and that is that everybody seems to concede that he is determined to have his way while he is president. No matter how strong an opposition is built up, it seems to crumble before the forceful personality and dominating influence of President Wilson.Last of the Veterans.
It is rather interesting to note that the three remaining veterans of the Union forces in the house of representatives are all Democrats. They are Sherwood of Ohio, Goulden of New York and Kirkpatrick of Iowa. No Republican veteran is now a member of the house. Of the Confederates that remain there are Estep of Louisiana, Talbot of Maryland, Jones of Virginia, Stedman of North Carolina and Taylor of Alabama. These men are all Democrats.Heke Smith's Nod.
Senator Jones of Washington was complaining that the committee on foreign relations had failed to report a resolution which he had introduced.
"I was led to believe that there would be a favorable report," said Jones, "for when I expressed such a desire there was an affirmative nod of the head on the part of the senator from Georgia, Mr. Smith.""I am not on the committee on foreign relations," said Smith.
"I supposed from the activity which the senator manifested that he was a member or at least had the influence which could cause the committee to act promptly," retorted Jones.It is true that Senator Smith takes an active part in the affairs of the senate and has exercised a great deal of influence in that body since he became a member only a short time ago.

Did Not Hear From Home.

Few members of the house of representatives really knew what the sentiment of their constituents was on the repeal of the Panama canal tolls at the time they voted. A few interested men wrote letters for and against the repeal, but few of the members had an opportunity to find out what was the real sentiment through the usual channels they employ. It is expected that the senators will be informed before they vote on the subject.

Murray on War.

"Alfalfa" Bill Murray of Oklahoma does not believe that perpetual peace is yet in sight. "Judging from past history," said Murray, "I would not fear to predict that there will be more wars in the coming century than there were in the last."There are many men who assert that if thirty years had elapsed since the Spanish war that nothing could have prevented a war with Mexico at the present time. The war spirit creeps out quite strong about once in every thirty years, they say.

The Cigarette Beetle.

Senator Bryan of Florida has introduced an amendment to the agricultural bill appropriating $10,000 to discover means of eradicating the cigarette beetle. Probably it will be explained what the cigarette beetle is, but there are a lot of people who would prefer to eliminate the cigarette. One senator remarked that if they could eliminate the man who puffed cigarette smoke in the face of the people it would be worth ten times the $10,000.

In His Fighting Clothes.

Congressman Butler of Pennsylvania is of Quaker descent and is not supposed to be a fighter. But he has got his fighting clothes on now and is making a race for re-election. But at one time had determined not to become a candidate again, but the political conditions of his district made it impossible for him to retire at this time. Butler has many friends everywhere who hope to see him come back.

After a Long Time.

It looks now as if there will be legislation during this congress for restricting the sales of cotton futures and gambling in cotton. The fight has been a long one, but as the bill has passed the senate it is probable that it will be taken up some time and put through the house.

Not For Long.

man who was speechless with rage?

METHODISTS MAY HAVE HOSPITAL

Plans Being Formulated to Take Over the Northwestern Hospital and Conduct it

UNDER CHURCH SUPERVISION

To Make a General Hospital—Rev. Dr. M. P. Burns, of Duluth, Inspects Property

Plans are being formulated by the Methodist Episcopal church for the taking over of the Northwestern hospital in this city and running it as a general hospital under the supervision of the church.

Rev. Dr. M. P. Burns of Duluth, district superintendent, was in the city yesterday afternoon and inspected the property and later was in consultation with a number of representatives of the church and a committee was appointed to investigate the general interest in such a movement. Should the church consummate its plans all people regardless of church affiliations would be admitted to hospital privileges on equal basis and all reputable surgeons admitted to practice. It is believed that Brainerd is now in need of a general hospital with first class service and that the people of the city will welcome this movement looking to its final consummation.

Everett Dingman Claims This as Damages from W. G. Mills, Emma Mills and Roy Mills

ALIENATION OF AFFECTIONS

Irwin E. Russell, in Damage Suit, Alleges it Took 24 Days to Deliver Telegram

A $10,000 suit for alienation of a wife's affections has been filed by Everett Dingman against W. G. Mills, Emma Mills and Roy Mills. The complaint recites that Dingman was married and the couple had two children, the family residing on a homestead near Merrifield.

The defendants named, it is alleged, entered into a conspiracy to vilify and accuse Dingman to his wife and so influenced her that she left him, on December 29, 1912, and that the defendants removed a great part of the household goods and took them to the home of G. W. Mills where Mrs. Dingman remained.

W. H. Crowell is attorney for Everett Dingman, the plaintiff.

Another case of interest to everybody is one which concerns the alleged delay in delivering a telegram, Irwin E. Russell, through his attorneys, Swanson & Swanson, asserting in his complaint that the local office of the Western Union Telegraph company took 24 days to deliver a message to him.

Russell asserts he is engaged in the contracting and engineering work and earned from $6 to $9 a day and had under his employment men who were waiting for instructions to continue work.

On August 9, 1913 he was offered, it is alleged, a clearing job in Kent, Ohio, and the message was not delivered until 24 days later. Mr. Russell was employed as superintendent and master mechanic by L. I. Fletcher, writer of the telegram, it is alleged, and that Russell was waiting in Brainerd to hear from Fletcher. Upon receipt of the belated telegram he answered, but found that he had lost his job and that another man had been hired. He now sues the telegraph company for $2,000 damages.

Mrs. Burnett, who has had much experience in dramatic work is supervising and directing the production of this play. The cast comprises some of the best of our city's young talent, namely, Frank Johnson, Eugene White, Werner Hemstead, Esther Belmuth, Bertha Mahlum, Lillian Smith, Frances Quinn and Cecil Miller.

WOMEN WON CONTEST

Men of First Baptist Church Serve Banquet to Ladies in Sunday School Contest

Wednesday night a unique affair was held at the First Baptist church. For the last three months a spirited contest has been waged between the men and the women of the Sunday school as to which side could secure the largest regular attendance at the Sunday school. The contest took the form of a trip to Palestine. A large chart showing the route to be followed was secured, and the start was made at Brainerd. At Duluth the women embarked on a red ship and the men on a blue ship, and each put on full steam ahead down the lakes. Each Sunday a count was made of the number of men and women present on time at the opening of the Sunday school, of the total number each side had in attendance at the session, and the number of new members which each had secured, and mileage was given the red ship or the blue ship in accordance with the results of the counts. The women took a commanding lead in the early part of the contest, but the men managed to pass them in mid ocean, only to lose out with the end in sight, for the women certainly staged a whirlwind finish.

The penalty suffered by the losers was that they should serve a banquet to the winners. So the men got together, designated various ones of their number to prepare tables, to secure food, to bake the cakes—for the men baked their own cakes—and so on. When the women arrived at the church at 6:30 last evening they were ushered into a banquet hall which gleamed and glistened with its spotless table linen, matchless silverware, and tasteful decorations. Stately head waiters, clothed in dress suits, saw that all were comfortably seated, and then the white coated army of waiters took matters in charge and soon the company was dining on the rich viands of the feast. At frequent intervals the fair diners broke forth with barbarous yells, much after the fashion of high school students, cheering the men on in their valiant efforts.

After the women had eaten all they could, Mrs. Cody, the toastmistress, called on Mrs. G. A. Beale, who had so valiantly captained the women's forces during the contest, and Mesdames Olson, Thayer, Walters and Angel, who responded to toasts, and told the men how much they appreciated the feast, and how glad they were that the men lost.

J. M. Hayes was the general chairman of the banquet committee, Rev. R. E. Cody mashed the potatoes, A. E. Thayer and "Gene" Everest baked the cakes, and "Gene" also furnished the recipe for the sherbet, which the women said was the best they had ever eaten.

Every one voted the banquet a great success, and the women declare that the entertainment must become an annual affair.

TO TALK CONSOLIDATION

Committee From the Commercial Club to Present Proposition to the Booster Club

One of the subjects of supreme importance to be discussed tonight by the Boosters at their meeting in the council chambers is consolidation with the Commercial club, under a new name and with officers to be elected by the new organization, if effected.

A Commercial club committee, President Carl Zapffe and D. A. Haggard and O. A. Peterson, will present the proposition to the Boosters. Accordingly the Boosters desire a large attendance this evening so that all will become familiar with the plan.

TABERNACLE IN READINESS

Illuminated With Scores of Sixty Candle Power Mazda Lamps

The preparation for the tabernacle meetings is almost done. The big tar papered building is now entirely completed both outside and in. The decorations are of bunting and colored papers hanging in festoons.

In one end many small flags make a patriotic effect. The religious purpose is expressed by a large banner bearing the words in black letters "Get Right With God." This hangs on the wall back of the platform.

The lighting is done with scores of sixty candle power Mazda lamps. Every part of the hall will be splendidly lighted. These lights are in four groups connected with switches.

In the back end of the tabernacle is a rest room. This is provided with a couch, table, chairs and telephone. The furniture was loaned for the purpose by B. C. McNamara. Mr. Graham furnished one of the pianos and the Norwegian Lutheran church the other.

Four big stoves heat the building and they are kept going night and day to dry out the lumber and to take the frost from the ground. This will ensure a well heated, comfortable building when the meetings begin. Ventilation is provided for by windows in the roof. The ground is made dry by a covering of saw dust.

Mr. Martin is working patiently and skillfully in bringing about the maximum comfort for the people. It is safe to say that by next Sabbath evening when the building is ready for the first meeting that it will be as comfortable as any church in the city.

Prof. George Moody and wife who take charge of the singing arrived in the city today. Their first meeting with the chorus will be on Sabbath afternoon. Chairs have been arranged for two hundred singers. The music will be a splendid feature of the campaign.

Evangelist Oscar Lowry is expected to arrive Saturday afternoon. The opening meeting will be held Easter Sabbath evening at 7:30 o'clock.

MUSIC AND DRAMAAt the Empress

"Dolly of the Dailies" is here again, her third appearance, and she is more winsome than ever. This number of the series shows her as a model's manikin and the costumes worn by her and other women in the cast caused many delighted "Ahs" and "Ohs" from the feminine portion of the audience last night.

The two-reel Kalem drama, "Medicine Man's Vengeance," is one of the best photo-plays shown in Brainerd this season, the Moqui Indians, their ancient and picturesque dwellings, their mystical ceremonies and religious rites is especially interesting at this time when the eyes of the world are all centered on Mexico and surrounding country.

The two comedies are good and Tommy and Irene are as irresistible as ever.

At the Columbia

Tonight is the first Friday at which the Columbia will give the public of Brainerd its big weekly feature, "In the Bishop's Carriage" will be the first one followed by many of the greatest plays in the world. Tomorrow owing to the especially strong program a special matinee will be given starting at 2 o'clock. On Sunday "Debut in the Secret Service" and "Our Mutual Girl" will be the attraction along with a wonderful program of musical numbers.

At the Grand

The management has an excellent program to offer the public Saturday evening, and all those who are desirous to spend a pleasant hour must not fail to stop in our theatre. Mrs. Lella Stanton Sanborn is to arrive in town tomorrow noon and will be with us for the evening performance. Her selections will please you, we are sure, and if you have never had the pleasure of listening to this talented young woman, your opportunity will be at hand tomorrow evening.

The photo play we are presenting "The Fall of '64" is full of life, vim and enthusiasm, with attractive scenes laid in the beautiful old south, just at the close of the war. Every good American citizen cannot help but feel the patriotism and vigor which led our forefathers on to victory.

One of the recent improvements of the Grand is the new electric fan.

CURE STOMACH TROUBLE

A household remedy of the French peasantry, consisting of pure vegetable oil, and said to possess wonderful merit in the treatment of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles, has been introduced in this country by George H. Mayr, who for twenty years has been one of the leading down town druggists of Chicago and who himself was cured by its use. So quick and effective is its action that a single dose is usually enough to bring pronounced relief in the most stubborn cases, and many people who have tried it declare they never heard of anything to produce such remarkable results in so short a time. It is known as Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and can now be had at almost any drug store. It is now sold here by
